Hi Allison,

I'm Phoebe Hsiao, your buddy in NCCU for the upcoming semester! First I want to say sorry for my late contact, life has been busy these days. I am now a junior, major in Finance and Korean.

I'm wondering if we can exchange our facebook or instagram account for better communication efficiency. The files attached are mine, please choose whichever you like and send me yours. We can use that one to contact each other in the future! (You can search Phoebe Hsiao if you can't find my fb account in Chinese)

I'm looking forward to know you more and meet you in person! Feel free to contact me if you have any question.

best,
Phoebe

Hi Phoebe! It's nice to meet you and no worries at all!! I will message you through Instagram :)

Allison and I shared lots of same interest. The one we thought as destiny is that we both interested in K-pop and Korean. She was an exchange student in Korea last semester, and she cherished the chance to go to BTS' free concert in Busan. We were like friends for a long time when we first met each other. The K-pop group we stand for are the same and we both love them for very long time. It feels amazing that even we live in different countries and culture, we can still find lots things to share.

We went on dinner date together and that night I felt no awkward but a hundred percent sincerity.

There' s one thing about her which surprised me! Her father is Taiwanese so she often come to Taiwan for visit and travel around. The tourist place she has been to is even more than mine.

I am glad to meet her through this buddy program and I believe we will be friends for life.
