Student life

"As we navigated local museums and typical Norwegian social activities, like park BBQs and swimming in Fjords, it also meant we were sharing the comparisons between our home countries and what we were doing with our new friends, which pushed us all to critically consider diverse perspectives and grow our understanding as global citizens and future business leaders."

– Kimberley Randall, QUT Business School,
Summer School 2025 cohort

Social Program Highlights:

- Arrival week: orientation, campus tour, welcome party
- Cultural outings and outdoor adventures: Hiking, sightseeing, museum visit, social events...

Mandatory Social Activity fee for all participants: NOK 1200

Quotes from students

"I had the privilege of being taught by Carlos Velasco, who truly showed me that passion for your work pays off. The connections I built with fellow students and the insights I gained about Norway during my stay make it certain that I'll return one day."

– Jasmine Massicotte, Université Laval
Summer School 2025 cohort

"The course was incredibly insightful; I felt supported the whole way through, and I walked away with a totally new skill."

All the social activities were fun and well thought-out. They enabled me to meet such a diverse and interesting group of people."

– Darius Oprea, University of Liverpool
Summer School 2025 cohort

"Summer School at BI encouraged me to apply my learnings from both in my home country and in Norway to real world scenarios, whilst also having the opportunity to grow my knowledge about business all over the world through being able to learn and collaborate with other students from around the world!"

Travelling across the world and connecting with students from different countries, while learning and exploring Oslo together meant that we weren't just learning about content in lessons but deeply connecting and sharing our cultures from around the world. "

– Kimberley Randall, QUT Business School
Summer School 2025 cohort
