Immigration and Insurance Requirements

Health Insurance Requirements

Both Massachusetts State Law and J-1 Exchange Visitor Program require exchange students to have appropriate health insurance. Due to laws that went into effect in January 2011, there are now more specific requirements regarding acceptable insurance coverage. Students should not assume that insurance policies that were accepted previously will still be accepted. The new law requires that the policy:

1. be purchased from a United States corporation
2. be purchased in the United States
3. cannot cover emergency care only
4. provides coverage for mental health and substance abuse care
5. provides coverage of pre-existing conditions
6. provides a prescription subsidy

Exchange students will automatically be enrolled in the Brandeis group health insurance, referred to as SHP; unless they can demonstrate that they have insurance that satisfies all of the above requirements. Brandeis University cannot exempt students from the requirements of law.

Visa Requirements

Once a student has been accepted, and they have completed the online VIDOOF form, the International Students & Scholars Office (ISSO) will create a DS-2019 form which will be mailed directly to the student. The DS-2019 must be submitted to the U.S. consulate or embassy in the student's home country, along with the visa application and other required documents. Please make sure to check with your consulate office regarding any other forms necessary prior to attending your interview for a U.S. student visa.

<h2 style="margin: 0;">Housing</h2>
On-Campus Housing	Unfortunately, Brandeis does not offer graduate student housing.
Off-Campus	While there are many options for off-campus housing, it can be a challenge and students are expected to begin their housing search early. Each semester there are business school students who are on exchange. These students often look for incoming exchange students to sublet their apartment while they are abroad. These opportunities are normally circulated by Brandeis email. Exchange students should also use the Graduate Student Affairs Housing Resources page: http://www.brandeis.edu/gradstudent/housing/index.html
