Re: E-paper Volume 4

The last week in INCAE was very intensive. I was invited to a birthday party of one of my classmates to her summer house. When we arrived to that place I was totally in a shock. 25 servants, 350 m2 beautiful villa with swimming pool, all surrounded by natural private rain forest. It turned out that my friend is a daughter of CEO of Holcim. We had a great time with other classmates trying a bit of luxurious life not many will be exposed in their further life. I was also invited to my housemate's beach house to learn for the exams and I experienced exactly the same as above. Beautiful house at the top of the hill with private beach. I could hardly study in this kind of scenery :)

Before I left one of my friend I made invited all exchange students to his concert where he is a singer. I was never a great fan of reggae music, but after the concert I became fan of the band and my friends performance.

My last day in INCAE was also the day of my birthday. Together with two other friends we celebrated birthday in one of the houses. Peruvian friend prepared bbq, girls made amazing cake with our pictures on it and had at 10pm bus to a club in the city. The party was great and next day I went to the bus station towards Panama for my trip to south.
