Barcelona: A Thriving Business Hub for Your Summer School Programme

Barcelona is not only a cultural icon but also a major business and innovation centre, making it the perfect destination for a summer school programme. As one of Europe's leading startup ecosystems, the city boasts a dynamic environment in technology, entrepreneurship, and international trade. Its strategic Mediterranean location, excellent transport links, and bustling port make it a global hub for business.

Students can explore key business districts like the 22@ Innovation District, engage with cutting-edge industries, and gain insights into real-world business practices through company visits, workshops, and networking.

Barcelona's forward-thinking approach to sustainability and smart city projects also provides a unique learning experience, preparing students for the challenges of the global economy.

Experience learning at EADA Business School

EADA Business School, founded in 1957, has extensive experience in business education and consistently ranks among the top institutions in prestigious global rankings. Its diverse portfolio includes Bachelor's, Master's, and MBA programmes, as well as a Doctoral Programme and Executive Education courses, offered in both English and Spanish.

EADA's "learning by doing" methodology ensures a personalized approach, with small class sizes and a highly qualified faculty made up of both academics and business professionals. This hands-on learning style helps students develop real-world skills and apply knowledge in practical settings.

With over 800 bachelors and master students from more than 76 nationalities, EADA fosters a multicultural environment and provides an excellent networking platform. The school's academic excellence is reflected in its EQUIS and AMBA accreditations, which have been consistently renewed since 2001, and its regular appearance in the Financial Times rankings, placing EADA among the top 50 business schools in Europe across multiple categories.

The Unique EADA Business+ Summer school

The EADA Business+ Summer School is a one-week, English-taught programme designed for ambitious, young individuals eager to learn, network, and grow at a world-class business school. Tailored for undergraduate or recent graduate (17-21 years old) from any discipline and nationality, the programme offers a multidisciplinary approach with different business topics.

EADA provides two distinct options that complement your studies, offering a taste of high-level business topics while helping you develop a global mindset. It's an ideal opportunity to gain practical knowledge and broaden your perspective in an international environment.

Beyond academics, the EADA Business+ Summer School allows you to enjoy your summer in Barcelona, building lasting friendships with peers from around the world. Held in July, you can select the business topic that align best with your interests and career goals.

Mornings are dedicated to classes, teamwork activities, and project development, while afternoons and evenings include social and cultural events. This well-rounded experience ensures both learning and leisure in a safe, dynamic setting. Located in the vibrant Eixample district, EADA's campuses are in the heart of Barcelona, providing a secure and inspiring environment for students.

Academic Programme Overview

The EADA Business+ Summer School offers students a multidisciplinary programme with different business topics. Taught entirely in English, the programme features small class sizes, encouraging active debate and interaction between students and faculty.

The academic experience is enriched with company visits, guest speakers, teamwork activities, and a project development assignment, which students present at the end of each week. Upon completion, participants receive an academic record with 2 credits, which may be recognized by their home university or college.

Students will have the unique opportunity to immerse themselves in the business school environment, gaining hands-on experience and developing key business skills.
