

Welcome

Since our last e-communication, Sussex Global Engagement has been able to return to our wonderful campus, and we continue to practice resilience and embrace innovative ways of connecting with students and our peers in the international community.

We are delighted to bring you some stories from the last few months, enjoy!

Sussex Summer Schools 2022 now open for applications

Following a two-year hiatus due to COVID-19 we are looking forward to welcoming students back onto campus for our Summer School 2022.

Undergraduate Summer School

This year the Undergraduate Summer School will run from 27 June to 5 August. We will be offering 21 credit-bearing modules from across nine schools of study.

Physics Undergraduate Summer School

The Physics Undergraduate Summer School will run from 27 June to 19 August.

It is an intensive 8-week programme, both theoretical and practical/lab-based, and is designed to provide a firm foundation in physical concepts and principles of Physics.

Students will live on campus in our newest en-suite student accommodation, a few minutes' walk from classes.

Click here for details of entry requirements and how to apply

Making connections
60 years of Sussex

Research Partnerships Conference

Technology • Health and Wellbeing
• Sustainability • Equality and Justice

Sussex Research Partnerships Conference 2022

Join us this Spring, in our 60th year, as we celebrate the University of Sussex research partnerships. Academics from Sussex and many of our international partners will be sharing insights from decades of research collaborations focusing on the following thematic areas:

- Neuroscience and Artificial Intelligence (AI)
- Sustainability
- Health and Wellbeing
- Equality and Justice

Engage with world-leading experts on topics ranging from AI, and the human brain, migration, and education, to research on global health. Sussex has been ranked No. 1* in the world for international development for the past five years. At this conference, we'll be hearing from global experts about the University's research partnerships on the Sustainable Development Goals. Some of the world's foremost researchers will share details of their collaborations, showcasing the impact of partnerships and cross-disciplinary research.

(*QS World university rankings 2022)

REGISTER HERE

Kampus
Merdeka
INDONESIA JAYA

lpdp

iisma

US
UNIVERSITY OF SUSSEX

UKRIDA
Universitas Kristen Krida Wacana

WELCOME to

IISMA PARTNERSHIP MEETING with

UNIVERSITY OF SUSSEX

Hosted by Universitas Kristen Krida Wacana

Monday, 7 February 2022

Sussex and Indonesian universities Partnership Forum

Sussex Global Mobility and over 35 Indonesian university representatives came together for a Partnership Forum around collaboration opportunities. During Indonesian Partnership Week, an initiative championed by the Ministry of Education, Culture, Research and Technology of Indonesia, the Sussex Global Mobility team and Universitas Kristen Krida Wacana (UKRIDA) co-hosted a Partnership Forum, which was attended by representatives from several dozen Indonesian universities.

Read our latest blog post to hear more about the forum and our relationship with Indonesia

Film screening shines a light on upcoming global opportunities

In November the Global Mobility team was delighted to host an on-campus screening of the feature film Granada Nights. This was followed by a Q&A with Abid Khan, the film's director. The film is a love letter to the city of Granada and the study abroad experience, mixing documentary with fiction. It skillfully creates an authentic and heartfelt examination of the process of self-discovery we know many of our students experience once abroad.

Read the full story here

Sussex global partners come together to share their experiences of supporting students through the pandemic

As the Sussex community continues to support students transitioning back to more in-person study, our Student Experience team have met with their counterparts from some of Sussex's longstanding global partners, to share their experiences and insights. The event was facilitated by our Global Partnerships Manager, Peter Boddy, and was hailed as a great success by all.

Find out more about the event here

Gemma Proudley joins us as the new Head of Global Engagement

We're delighted to announce that Gemma Proudley has joined us as the new Head of Global Engagement. Gemma has been working in the International Education field for the past nine years and was previously the Interim Head of International Relations Unit at UAL where she worked for three years. Gemma provided overall leadership on Partnerships, Mobility and TNE provision and lead the implementation of the institutional International Strategy.

Reflecting on her new role, Gemma says: "I am privileged to have had such a range of experiences and I am delighted to be joining the University of Sussex to use these to progress their impressive global portfolio and to achieve their aspiring 2025 strategy. I truly believe in Sussex's values and using these to create sustainable, mutually beneficial partnerships and collaborations. As the world battles with challenges such as climate change, gender and social inequalities, food and clean water shortages, and inaccessible education and health provisions, partnerships will enable us to tackle these together. I am looking forward to working with the experts in the Global Engagement team and those across the University to provide innovative and creative educational opportunities for students and staff across Sussex and its partnerships."

Other Sussex stories...

University of Sussex appoints Professor Sasha Roseneil as next Vice-Chancellor

World-renowned, interdisciplinary social scientist Professor Sasha Roseneil will become the ninth University of Sussex Vice-Chancellor in August 2022.

Read the full story here

New fellowship programme in Africa and UK will boost global health leadership

Brighton and Sussex Medical School will work with the London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine (LSHTM) and other partners in the UK and Africa on a new £11.8m PhD fellowship programme to train a new generation of world-class researchers focused on improving health and wellbeing in Africa.

More can be found about the fellowship here

New microsite launched to inspire and support Chinese audiences

As Chinese New Year celebrations began, the University of Sussex has launched a brand new microsite for Chinese audiences.

Find out more here

£7 million grant will boost research into "ignored" diseases

The Global Health Research Unit at Brighton and Sussex Medical School (BSMS), which works on some of the most 'ignored' neglected tropical diseases (NTDs), has been given a boost by an award of £7 million funding over five years by the National Institute for Health Research (NIHR).

Find out more about the grant here

Click here to explore our Sussex Global Engagement blog