

Launch of Online Open Access Programmes of York

During 2020, we have been busy expanding our offer of courses and are now delighted to announce for the first time ever we will be offering open access online programmes. Individual students will be able to apply for any of these programmes through our website.

There are three different course types to choose from:

- York Strengths Global Employability Course
- English Language and Culture Course
- English Language and Business Course

Our Methodology

Our online programmes are designed to be engaging, interactive and informative. Our aim is to have students actively engage with us in our live sessions and through collaborative interactive projects. Find out more about our online teaching methodology on our website.

Scholarships

We are delighted to announce that scholarships are available for these courses, which could support your students with some of the cost of the programme. Students should apply for the scholarship during the registration process. If you have any general questions about fees and scholarships, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Promotion

If you think any of your students might benefit from doing one of our courses, then we are here to help you promote these opportunities. On our promotional resources webpage, you can access pre-recorded presentations for each course, along with links and social media posts to share.
