

The End: Reserve Time for Iberia

Unlike others, I didn't go to many countries, because I want to share the joy and excitement of going to those world class destinations with my lover in the future. Furthermore, Spain and Portugal are actually worth travelling for a long time. Starting from my beloved island, Mallorca, I travelled around Iberia peninsula for a whole full month. I even hitchhiked again!

There are so many cities I want to share, but I don't have enough space. I just want to remind you one thing: Don't miss the North of Spain!
